

RAINA TRUJILLO

Performing Artist | Instructor

An ambitious and determined performing artist, I bring years of vocal and ukulele experience to students of all ages. My background as a professional performer fuels my passion for helping others discover their own musical voice. I help students of all ages build strong technique, confidence, and a genuine love for making music. Whether you're just starting or looking to grow your skills, I create a supportive, fun, and personalized learning experience.
